Presentation for concurrent sessions

Title: Educating the Educated

By Joyce Wayne
Director, Sheridan Centre for Internationally Trained Individuals

- Brief Description of Sheridan College’s one-year graduate certificate program: Canadian Journalism for Internationally Trained Writers
- Rationale for development
- Toronto as exilic writers’ capital of the world
- The PEN conference at Foreign Affairs, Ottawa

- The Ordeal of the Application Process
- Breaking all the rules
- Developing new guidelines for international applicants
- The plight of the refugee writer
- Making the numbers work

- Raising the Roof on Scholarships
- How to raise money for international students
- Involving business and industry
- Attracting media attention
- Applying government support

- A New Curriculum for the Globally Educated
- The process
- The advisory committee
- Raising the bar on expectations
- The sophisticated Third Millennium Immigrant
- New teaching language for a multi-lingual class
- Encouraging Diaspora dialogues

- Securing Field Placements and Jobs
- Working with industry
- Sticking with mentoring throughout the process
- Post-graduation support